

Emory Healthcare Veterans Program Team

EMORY
HEALTHCARE

Veterans Program

The Emory Healthcare Veterans Program (EHVP) provides nationally renowned care for healing the invisible wounds of military service. Meet our expert team of leaders, clinicians, case managers, data analysts, outreach coordinators and administrative specialists who work together to help our veterans and service members reclaim their lives.

Leadership

Barbara O. Rothbaum, PhD, ABPP, Executive Director

Dr. Rothbaum is a caring, compassionate, effective and active clinician and is a professor and associate vice chair of clinical research at Emory School of Medicine in the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences, director of the Trauma and Anxiety Recovery Program and holds the Paul A. Janssen Chair in Neuropsychopharmacology. She has devoted her career to developing, testing and disseminating some of the most innovative and effective treatments available for post traumatic stress disorder (PTSD). Dr. Rothbaum is an inventor of virtual reality exposure therapy and pioneered applying the treatment for PTSD in combat veterans. She has authored over 350 scientific papers and chapters, has published 11 books on the treatment of PTSD and edited four others on anxiety, and received the Diplomate in Behavioral Psychology from the American Board of Professional Psychology.

Sheila A. M. Rauch, PhD, Deputy Director

Dr. Rauch has provided PTSD and anxiety disorders treatment, training and research for more than 20 years. She leads PTSD treatment outcomes and mechanisms trials at the Department of Veterans Affairs and Emory and serves as a Veterans Health Administration Prolonged Exposure Therapy Roll Out trainer. Her research focuses on translational treatment outcomes and modifications of proven treatments for use in alternate settings such as primary care. She has published scholarly articles and book chapters in the areas of anxiety disorders and PTSD and has been involved in the modification and adaptation of proven psychotherapeutic interventions for anxiety disorders for various populations and settings including primary care.

Liza Zwiebach, PhD, Clinical Director

Dr. Zwiebach is a faculty member in the Department of Psychiatry at the Emory University School of Medicine. She received her PhD from the University of Massachusetts Boston. Dr. Zwiebach completed clinical training at the Edith Nourse Rogers Memorial VA Medical Center in Bedford, Massachusetts and at Bellevue Hospital Center in New York City. Her background includes work with active military, veteran and law enforcement personnel.

Sarah Schwartz, MSW, MBA, MHA, Program Director

Sarah has served as the program director at EHVP for several years. Prior to EHVP, she was the executive director of a statewide mental health nonprofit organization for a decade. Having successfully led behavioral health care operations management, programming and financial planning at this organization and others, she has a proven history of strengthening organizations, strategic leadership and improving access and outcomes for individuals suffering from mental illness. Earlier in her career, Sarah sharpened her clinical skills by providing various forms of therapy to vulnerable populations and then working in psychiatric clinical trials for eight years. Her familiarity with clinical work, along with her business acumen, gives her greater insight into successfully managing a behavioral health program.

Boadie W. Dunlop, MD, MS, Medical Director

Dr. Dunlop has served as director of the Emory Mood and Anxiety Disorders Program since 2006. Prior to this role, he worked for years as an inpatient and outpatient psychiatrist at the Atlanta VA Medical Center. His clinical research program is focused on neurobiology and treatment of major depressive and anxiety disorders with a particular focus on PTSD. He has served as an investigator for more than 50 clinical studies of medication and psychotherapy treatments for these conditions. Dr. Dunlop has published extensively on depression, PTSD and anxiety disorders, and has authored a book and eight book chapters on these topics.

Lieutenant General (ret.) William "Burke" Garrett III, Executive Advisor

Burke Garrett joined EHVP after 35 years of distinguished military service, including deployments to Afghanistan and Iraq. He is committed to helping the program grow into a national center of excellence dedicated to healing the invisible wounds of military service through world-class clinical care, wellness, education and research. Burke's enduring gratitude for the sacrifices made by our nation's service members will always be the spirit behind his work.

Vanessa Roberson, MHA, Manager of Clinical Operations

Vanessa received her Master of Healthcare Administration from the University of Phoenix. She has been with Emory Healthcare for several years, most recently serving as a veteran outreach coordinator for EHVP for three years and then working as the supervisor of business operations in the Ophthalmology Department. She is excited to return to EHVP in a management role. Vanessa comes from a military family and is married to an Army veteran. She has a passion for mental health and a huge heart for veterans.

Charlandra Williams, MBA, Senior Manager, Business Operations

Charlandra received her Master of Business Administration from the Johns Hopkins Carey Business School, where she completed internships with Johns Hopkins Hospital and the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration. She has worked within Emory Healthcare for the past seven years and brings experience in process improvement, program logistics and financial planning. Charlandra's father was a Vietnam Veteran which has fueled her passion for helping veterans in any way she can.

Outreach Coordinators

Shaun Lewis, JD, Lead Veteran Outreach Coordinator

Shaun joined the United States Army in 2001. After finishing active duty, he transitioned into the Army Reserve and attended Auburn University where he earned a Bachelor of Science in International Business (cum laude). Upon graduation, he commissioned into the Army National Guard as an engineer officer. He later deployed to Iraq in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom. In 2010, he attended the Georgia State University College of Law. After completion of his Juris Doctor, he worked as a veteran recruitment specialist for Victory Media and helped universities and Fortune 1000 companies build strong veteran recruitment programs. In 2015, Shaun joined Hire Heroes USA to be an advocate for transitioning service members and military spouses. In 2017, Shaun joined the EHVP team.

James Brown, BS, Veteran Outreach Coordinator

James is a United States Air Force veteran, serving 11 years of active duty, domestically and abroad. During his Air Force career, he served as a sexual assault victims advocate, a resilience trainer at the Dover Port Mortuary and as a dormitory manager, among other jobs. While serving, James completed his Bachelor of Science in Psychology. After separating from the Air Force, he worked for Google Maps and Covenant House of Georgia. James has a passion for human services, specifically veterans.

Jeffrey Canterbury, MS, Veteran Outreach Coordinator

Jeffrey has served over eight years as a traditional Army National Guardsman for both Wisconsin and Georgia. He worked in a support company as a driver while earning his Bachelor of Arts in Biblical Counseling at Maranatha Baptist University. While serving as a medical planner for combat arms battalions, he became a level one certified Master Resiliency Trainer, went through ASIST (Applied Suicide Intervention Skills Training) and began his Master of Science in Organizational Leadership with an emphasis on health care management from Regent University. Jeffrey was deployed with his unit to Afghanistan in support of Operation Freedom's Sentinel in January of 2019. Later in 2019, Jeffrey joined the EHVP team.

Joshua Moss, Veteran Outreach Coordinator

Joshua graduated from Clayton State University with a Bachelor of Science in Psychology. He has been a member of the Georgia Army National Guard since May 2001 and comes from a long line of veterans in his family. Joshua was deployed to Iraq in 2005 and Afghanistan in 2009 and served as a mechanic, recovery team member and team leader on a Personal Security Detail team. He has a strong passion for helping veterans and feels that EHVP is a great place to provide compassionate and quality assistance to our fellow veterans.

Imarii Poindexter, BS, Veteran Outreach Coordinator

Imarii is a United States Navy veteran serving five years active duty with two deployments as an Aviation Ordinance team member. Imarii completed her Bachelor of Science in Psychology after separating from the Navy. Before joining the EHVP team in 2020 as a veteran outreach coordinator, Imarii worked in Human Resources as an integral member of the Strategy Center of Excellence team and worked on strategies for the veteran's program at UPS Corporate. Imarii has a passion for psychology and contributing to the veteran community.

Julie Chrysoferidis, PhD, Postdoctoral Fellow

Dr. Chrysoferidis received her PhD in Clinical Psychology from Washington State University and completed her internship at Hershel "Woody" Williams VAMC in Huntington, West Virginia. Julie is committed to providing evidence-based treatment for PTSD and its sequela. Her research interests include examining how current protocols can better serve diverse populations and exploring community-based interventions for earlier identification and treatment of PTSD.

Karen Drexler, MD, Attending Psychiatrist

Dr. Drexler serves as an attending psychiatrist in the Emory Healthcare Veterans Program, as medical director for the American Academy of Addiction Psychiatry and as clinical associate professor in psychiatry and behavioral sciences at Emory University in Atlanta, GA. She is board certified in psychiatry and addiction psychiatry by the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology. She attended Duke University School of Medicine on a U.S. Air Force Health Professions Scholarship and completed her psychiatry residency training at Wilford Hall USAF Medical Center. She served eight years as a psychiatrist in the U.S. Air Force before returning home to Atlanta and Emory University where she directed the Atlanta VA Substance Abuse Treatment Program from 1994 to 2014 and the Emory Addiction Psychiatry Residency Training Program from 2002 to 2014. She retired from the Veterans Health Administration as the National Mental Health Program Director for Substance Use Disorders in 2020. Her research interests include health services, clinical and translational research in addiction prevention and treatment. She is passionate about serving her fellow Veterans here at the EHVP.

Martha Fiskeaux, PsyD, Postdoctoral Fellow

Dr. Fiskeaux earned her PsyD from the Florida School of Professional Psychology at National Louis University in Tampa, Florida, and completed her predoctoral internship at the C.W. Bill Young VA Medical Center in Bay Pines, Florida. Dr. Fiskeaux is passionate about providing client-centered, evidenced-based treatment to veterans with PTSD, anxiety, mood and personality disorders characterized by chronic emotional dysregulation. Dr. Fiskeaux enjoys utilizing cognitive-behavioral, interpersonal and mindfulness-based therapies with a focus on individual differences and culturally responsive care.

Stefanie Haft, PhD, Postdoctoral Fellow

Dr. Haft earned her PhD in Clinical Psychology from Western Michigan University and completed her internship at the C.W. Young VA Medical Center in Bay Pines, Florida. She specializes in providing evidence-based treatments to individuals with anxiety-spectrum disorders (e.g. PTSD, OCD, social anxiety, specific phobia), as well as other commonly co-occurring difficulties (e.g. insomnia, depression, substance use, antisocial personality disorder). Dr. Haft's research interests include exploring factors that reduce dropout for exposure therapies, including using strength-based and values-based approaches, sensitivity to diversity, cultural, and individual factors, as well as therapeutic assessment and using the MMPI-2-RF/MMPI-3 as an intervention.

Sarah Harris, MS, APRN, PMHNP-BC, PMHCNS-BC, Psychiatric Nurse Practitioner

Sarah Harris is a board-certified psychiatric mental health nurse practitioner and clinical nurse specialist. She received her Master of Science in Nursing in 2010. Her psychiatric nursing experience of more than 20 years includes clinical practice, research and teaching. Her first position as a nurse practitioner was providing psychiatric consult-liaison services at WellStar while teaching clinical rotations. Those experiences led to a faculty appointment at Georgia State University. Later, while psychiatric nurse practitioner program director, she led the effort to develop a lifespan-based curriculum. Sarah gained valuable experience with the Atlanta Veterans Health Administration providing inpatient and outpatient clinical services for several years. Prior to joining EHVP, she worked as a nurse practitioner at Emory's Wesley Woods psychiatric inpatient facility and also served as a preceptor to nurse practitioner students.

Natalie Hellman, PhD, Postdoctoral Fellow

Dr. Hellman received her PhD in Clinical Psychology from The University of Tulsa in Oklahoma and completed her predoctoral internship at the Charleston Consortium in Charleston, South Carolina. Dr. Hellman is passionate about using evidence-based treatments for PTSD, anxiety and mood disorders. This includes exposure, acceptance and commitment and cognitive behavioral-based therapies with an emphasis on compassion and strength-based treatment styles. Her research interests include the impact of trauma exposure and PTSD on our bodies and minds, specifically chronic pain development and treatment.

Courtland Hyatt, PhD, Clinical Psychologist

Dr. Courtland Hyatt is an assistant professor in the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences at the Emory University School of Medicine. He earned his PhD in Clinical Psychology from the University of Georgia in Athens, GA, and completed his clinical internship and post-doctoral fellowship at VA Puget Sound in Seattle, WA. Dr. Hyatt strives to deliver psychotherapy that is evidence-based, warm, compassionate and supportive of the values expressed by his patients. His research interests include aggression, personality, PTSD, neuroimaging and open science methods.

Laura Loucks, PhD, Clinical Psychologist

Dr. Loucks is a faculty member in the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences at the Emory University School of Medicine. Dr. Loucks earned her PhD in Clinical Psychology at the University of Georgia. She completed her clinical internship at the Memphis VA Medical Center and her postdoctoral fellowship at Emory University School of Medicine. Dr. Loucks enjoys providing evidence-based treatment for individuals and families with emphasis on PTSD and comorbid disorders. Her research interests focus on examining relations among PTSD and family relationship functioning and related interventions. She is passionate about helping veterans and families build resilience.

Jessica Maples-Keller, PhD, Clinical Psychologist

Dr. Maples-Keller is a faculty member in the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences at Emory University School of Medicine. She specializes in exposure-based interventions for PTSD and anxiety disorders. She received her PhD from the University of Georgia and completed her clinical internship at the Medical University of South Carolina and her postdoctoral fellowship with EHVP. Dr. Maples-Keller's research interests include how we can use translational models of fear and anxiety to understand and improve exposure therapy and investigating factors that confer risk or impact treatment response for PTSD and anxiety disorders.

Mansi Mehta, PhD, Clinical Psychologist

Dr. Mehta received her PhD in Clinical Psychology from Kent State University in Ohio and completed her predoctoral internship at the Atlanta VA Medical Center. Dr. Mehta is a proponent of evidence-based treatment for depression, PTSD and other related problems such as insomnia. She is also passionate about providing high-quality services to veterans, service members and their families. Her research interests include women's experiences of negative moods, trauma and stress.

Vivianne Nguku, MS, Nurse Practitioner

Vivianne Nguku is a board-certified nurse practitioner with a focus on family medicine. She received her Master of Science in Nursing from South University in Savannah, Georgia. Vivianne's experience includes over 10 years working as a registered nurse treating patients with chronic illnesses. She is currently pursuing her Psychiatric-Mental Health Nurse Practitioner certification.

Maria Nylocks, PhD, Clinical Psychologist

Dr. Nylocks earned her PhD in Clinical Psychology at Kent State University in Ohio and completed her predoctoral internship at Duke University Medical Center in Durham, North Carolina. Dr. Nylocks is passionate about providing evidence-based treatment for PTSD and other trauma-related disorders to veterans, service members and civilians. Her research interests include identifying the predictors of PTSD and transdiagnostic emotion-related factors that contribute to treatment response.

Katie Ragsdale, PhD, Clinical Psychologist

Dr. Ragsdale is a faculty member in the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences at the Emory University School of Medicine. She earned her PhD in Clinical Psychology from the University of Central Florida in Orlando and completed her internship and fellowship at the Salem VA Medical Center in Salem, Virginia. Dr. Ragsdale is passionate about the evidence-based treatment of PTSD and comorbid disorders with particular interest in exposure therapy and other behavioral treatments.

Brinkley Sharpe, MS, Psychological Specialist

Brinkley is a doctoral candidate in the clinical psychology program at the University of Georgia. She is committed to conducting evidence-based, reliable, compassionate, and culturally informed psychological assessments for trauma-exposed individuals. Brinkley's research interests include personality dynamics, perceptions of personality pathology, and meta-science.

Andrew Sherrill, PhD, Clinical Psychologist

Dr. Sherrill is a faculty member in the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences at the Emory University School of Medicine. He earned his PhD from Northern Illinois University. He completed his predoctoral internship at the VA Puget Sound Health Care System and his postdoctoral fellowship at Emory University. Dr. Sherrill is dedicated to providing evidence-based psychotherapies to veterans and helping clinical trainees develop competencies necessary for this population. He values service, discovery, camaraderie and liberty. He is passionate about supporting veterans live consistently with their own freely chosen values.

Kelsey Sprang Jones, PsyD, Clinical Psychologist

Dr. Sprang earned her PhD in Clinical Psychology from Nova Southeastern University in Fort Lauderdale, Florida and completed her doctoral internship as the general psychology intern at the South Texas Veterans Health Care System in San Antonio, Texas. Dr. Sprang specializes in providing evidence-based treatments to individuals with trauma histories and other related disorders (e.g. substance use, mood disorders, personality disorders, emotion regulation concerns and history of brain injuries). Dr. Sprang is dedicated to providing client-driven individualized trauma-focused treatment to foster healing and change.

Laura Watkins, PhD, Clinical Psychologist

Dr. Watkins is a faculty member in the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences at the Emory University School of Medicine. She earned her PhD in Clinical Psychology from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. She completed her predoctoral internship at the University of Mississippi Medical Center and G.V. (Sonny) Montgomery VA Medical Center Psychology Internship Consortium. She was also a postdoctoral fellow at the Clinical Neurosciences Division of the National Center for PTSD at West Haven VA Medical Center. Dr. Watkins specializes in providing evidence-based treatments for PTSD, substance use and related problems.

Anna Wise, PhD, Clinical Psychologist

Dr. Wise received her PhD in Clinical Psychology from Kent State University in Ohio and completed her predoctoral internship at VA Ann Arbor Healthcare System in Ann Arbor, Michigan. She is committed to providing evidence-based treatments for PTSD, anxiety and mood disorders, with particular interest in exposure-based interventions. Her research interests include examination of psychosocial factors associated with symptom risk, maintenance and recovery following trauma exposure.

Carly Yasinski, PhD, Clinical Psychologist

Dr. Yasinski is a faculty member in the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences at the Emory University School of Medicine. She earned her PhD from the University of Delaware, completed her clinical internship at the Medical College of Georgia and Charlie Norwood VA Medical Center in Augusta, Georgia, and her postdoctoral fellowship with EHVP. Dr. Yasinski is dedicated to providing compassionate, evidence-based care for veterans, service members and their families with a focus on cognitive-behavioral and mindfulness-based approaches to treating depression and PTSD. Her research includes a better understanding of the process of change during psychotherapy for these disorders and improving clinical outcomes.

Case Management

Elizabeth (“Lindy”) Carbone, LCSW, Social Services Manager

Lindy has a Bachelor of Science in Psychology from the University of Tennessee and a Master of Science in Social Work from the University of North Dakota. She has worked in the field of mental health for more than 20 years providing treatment in the areas of substance abuse, depression, anxiety, trauma and other mental health issues. She has worked with veterans in multiple settings including the Atlanta VA Medical Center where she provided group-based exposure therapy as well as psychoeducation to veterans with PTSD. Lindy specializes in a holistic approach to treatment incorporating healthy eating, exercise, individual treatment plans and case management.

Nickie Cockerham, LMSW, Social Worker

Nickie received her Master of Science in Social Work from the University of Alabama. She completed her clinical internships at Beauregard Memorial Hospital in DeRidder, Louisiana and Coliseum Center for Behavioral Health in Macon, Georgia.

Sean Dougherty, LCSW, Social Worker

Sean received his Master of Science in Social Work from the University at Buffalo in New York. Before joining EHVP, Sean served as a social worker for the Georgia Regional Hospital in Atlanta and worked as an outreach case manager for homeless individuals in Buffalo, New York.

Brianne (Bri) Edwardsberry, LCSW, Social Worker

Bri received their Master of Social Work from Boston University. Before moving to Atlanta and working at EHVP, Bri worked as a clinical social worker at the Massachusetts Department of Public Health and Massachusetts General Hospital. They are particularly interested in working at the intersection of trauma, substance use and LGBTQ+ identities.

Giselle Remy-Bryan, LCSW, M.Div, Social Worker

Giselle spent her formative years as an Army brat and is the spouse of an Army veteran. She personally knows the challenges that veterans and their families face. She received her Master of Social Work from Rutgers University, with a concentration in health, mental health and aging. Giselle has served veterans for several years in multiple health care settings. She is passionate about connecting veterans with care through case management and family services.

Tiffany Wilcox, LCSW, Social Worker

Tiffany received her Bachelor of Science and Master of Science in Social Work at Florida State University. She grew up in a military family and town which is what fostered her passion for working with veterans. Tiffany completed her internships at Georgia Regional Hospital of Atlanta and at the Atlanta VA Medical Center in the Geriatric Clinic. She has also worked in home health, the Atlanta VA Homeless Program and Home Hospice. Tiffany is currently pursuing her LCSW.

Research and Data

Nafeesa Alexander, MA, Clinical Research Coordinator

Nafeesa received her Master of Arts in Economics from Georgia State University and her Bachelor of Arts from Spelman College. Before joining EHVP, she studied the effects of pharmaceutical drugs, blood analysis and more at Morehouse School of Medicine. As a clinical research coordinator, Nafeesa will support EHVP's various research studies.

Celia Allred, BS, Research Specialist

Celia graduated with honors from Oregon State University with her Bachelor of Science in Psychology. Before coming to EHVP, she honed her research skills through a National Institute on Drug Abuse internship with the University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio, where she assisted with research on the impacts of substance use disorder in parents on their offspring. An Air Force veteran herself, Celia is passionate about her role as a research specialist supporting EHVP's work in developing therapeutic techniques to treat PTSD and other invisible wounds through measure dissemination, participant screening, biological sample collection and processing, research interviewing, and device administration.

Kathryn Black, Research Data/Senior Informatics Specialist

Kathryn has a background in clinical and translational research in psychiatry. As the data analyst, she is responsible for timely and accurate data collection and reporting to support patient care and strategic decision making. Kathryn earned her Bachelor of Science in Psychology and a Master of Science in Public Health from Emory University.

Meagan Dove, BS, Research Interviewer

Meagan obtained a Bachelor of Science in Public Health at Stetson University in Florida. As a research interviewer, Meagan is involved in a variety of tasks such as the administration of surveys, collection of biological samples and the input of psychophysiological data.

Luke Ellmaker, BA, Research Interviewer

Luke received his Bachelor of Arts in Psychology from North Carolina State University. Before being a part of EHVP, Luke performed research with the Department of Psychology in the North Carolina State University Mindset Lab. In the lab, Luke worked as a research assistant and helped process and develop research about Trauma-Informed Courtrooms. Luke now works at EHVP as a research interviewer.

Syreese Fuller, BS, Lead Clinical Research Coordinator

Syreese Fuller is responsible for the management, coordination and regulatory compliance of research projects. Syreese earned her Bachelor of Science in Biology from Tuskegee University. She has a keen interest in health-related research with over six years of experience in clinical and behavioral research at various institutions such as Emory University Hospital Midtown and Grady Memorial Hospital.

Amy Kim, BS, Project Coordinator

Amy graduated Emory University with a Bachelor of Science in Quantitative Sciences. She returned to Emory as a research interviewer which involves administering surveys, obtaining biological samples and input of psychophysiological data, among other tasks.

Kaylee Santiago, BA, Research Interviewer

Kaylee received her Bachelor of Arts in Psychology from California State University, Fullerton, where she was a Research Assistant for the Social Science Research Center. As a Research Interviewer at EHVP, Kaylee aspires to contribute to research that will ultimately improve the quality of care and outcomes for those with PTSD and other related disorders.

Bonnie Seifert, BS, Data Analyst

Bonnie maintains and ensures the quality of data as well as the integrity of the data systems that support EHVP. She graduated with honors from Kennesaw State University with a Bachelor of Science in Psychology and plans to attend graduate school to pursue her passion for neuropsychology and PTSD research.

Administrative

Chemedria Ballard, BS, Patient Care Coordinator

Chemedria is a caring, effective and compassionate front desk attendant. Prior to EHVP, she studied health information technology at DeVry University. She's committed to helping veterans and feels this program is the best place to start.

Phillip Colon, BS, Coordinator of Business Services

Phillip handles all patient care coordination for the warriors. Phillip served in the Army from 2006 to 2010, with a deployment to Iraq. He earned a Bachelor of Arts in History and Sociology from Georgia State University.

Ella Edge, MA, Marketing and Communications Manager

Ella Edge received her Master of Arts in Professional Writing from Kennesaw State University. Before coming to EHVP in 2019, Ella worked as a communications coordinator at the Cherokee Office of Economic Development and helped make Cherokee County a camera-ready destination. As the marketing and communications manager, Ella shares EHVP's innovative research and world-class care with the military community.

Vickie Howard, BS, Senior Administrative Assistant

Vickie provides administrative support to the entire program. Before joining EHVP in July 2019, Vickie worked in the Department of Emergency Medicine for 15 years. During her tenure, she supported the Research, Toxicology and Ultrasound programs. Some of the duties included calendar management, purchasing card reconciliation, travel management, employee orientation, space reservations and budget expenditures. She is a graduate of Savannah State University with a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration.

Jim Ludlam, BA, Director of Development

Jim received his Bachelor of Arts in History and Political Science at the University of Georgia and a Juris Doctor at the University of Georgia School of Law. Before EHVP, Jim worked as a principal gifts officer for the United Way of Greater Atlanta, a fundraising consultant for several economic development organizations and an attorney in private practice and in-house at a national voluntary health association. Jim Ludlam raises funds for the program through individual, foundation and corporate philanthropy, grants from the public and private sector and other revenue streams.

Melody Jackson, BA, Coordinator of Business Services

Melody serves as the liaison for program participants and handles their schedules and travel activities. She graduated from Alverno College in 2015 with a Bachelor of Arts in Community Leadership and Development. Before joining EHVP as the coordinator of business services, Melody worked as a patient services coordinator and medical secretary for the Emory Orthopaedics & Spine Center.

Jessica Thomas, Patient Care Coordinator

Jessica studied pharmacy at Georgia Perimeter College and has been with Emory for 18 years. Before coming to EHVP, she was a senior patient coordinator for the Emory Clinic.